GOP gubernatorial candidate praises New Deal 'sincere efforts for recovery'; tells of 'crime allies'

Justice for Sale

Cites 'Justice for Sale in Everything From Murder Cases Down'

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Sources close to the Republican high command in New York state revealed today that Thomas E. Dewey, the party's gubernatorial candidate, has said his last word on national issues.

Speaking in a campaign appearance here last night, Dewey accused the Roosevelt administration of having "callously wasted public funds for political purposes" but praised its "sincere efforts for recovery."

As he headed this morning for Utica and Utica, on the final leg of his current upstate stump tour, Dewey was authoritatively indicating no elaboration of his position on national affairs was being considered.

Dewey, these sources disclosed, intends to stand upon what he had said last night before a crowd estimated by his aides at 5,000, when he criticized the "excesses" of both "big business" and government.

Dewey devoted much of his speech to a denunciation of the state Democratic party. While terming his Democratic opponent, Governor Herbert H. Lehman, "an honorable and conscientious gentleman," he asserted that "after six years of the present state administration the corrupt machines of the Democratic party are still doing business at the same old stand."

The importance which the Dewey camp had placed upon this speech was evidenced by the fact that it was revised a number of times before delivery and was not in final form until shortly before the scheduled hour.

Dewey's speech in full follows:

Fellow Republicans:

Once more the drums of victory are beating along the Mohawk. The Republican party today stands ready to reassert its leadership in the state of New York. It stands ready to accept the grave responsibilities of leadership.

The party has chosen me to lead the battle. No man with humility could have sought such an honor, so no man with courage could refuse it. Tonight we meet in a campaign to revitalize the government of the state. The audience gathered here represents all of the people of this fine city and the country-side for miles around. Business men and women, workmen, farmers and housewives are here in common cause. We do not come to the break-up of political monopoly. In that cause we will win.

Pledged to Principles

We are determined to replace lethargy with vitality, political hacks with appointive places with able administrators. A weary boredom with fresh energy. The progressive principles on which we stand have been stated in the party platform. I pledge myself to uphold and carry out those principles. The question for New York to decide in this election is who shall best administer the affairs of the state.

The choice is between a willing and an unwilling candidate; a vigorous administration against a group of jaded job-holders; a fresh administration against one cluttered with the by-products of Tammany, Brooklyn and Albany political headquarters. There can be only one decision on these issues. Corrupt political machines must go.

My opponent in this election is an honorable and conscientious gentleman. I have the highest admiration for his personal integrity and devotion to the public service. But this is not enough. Let's look at the facts.

After six years of the present state administration the corrupt machines of the Democratic party are still doing business at the same old stand. This year we shall destroy their power. The state of New York on November 8th will choose the kind of government it will have for the next four years. This decision should be rendered on state issues. It is my intention to campaign on those issues. Nevertheless you are entitled to know the views of your candidate for governor on the major problems of the day. I shall state them.

We have now suffered nine years of economic distress. Six years ago the people brought about a change of national administration. During the past six years sincere efforts have been made to solve problems too long neglected. Social and economic changes in the world have been reflected in national legislation. It is the duty of the party in power to respond to the will of the people. We must fight to up-

Authorities Begin Huge Task Today Of Piecing Data

Officials Divulge No Link Between Theft of Police Records and Pending Brooklyn Corruption Probe

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—On the eve of a state investigation into reports of official corruption in Brooklyn, authorities today began the Herculean task of piecing together from other sources the data contained in stolen police records of 7,200 arrests.

Officials were silent on the manner in which the theft was apparently linked to the pending inquiry, but City Commissioner of Investigation William B. Herlianus said vehemently:

"Whatever the perpetrator had in mind, he will be defeated in his purpose because we are in a position to reconstruct these records. We will get 50 or even 100 accounts on the job if the present staff is insufficient."

Meanwhile indications grew that the search for the culprit had narrowed to police now or formerly attached to the Bergen street station from which the records—weighing more than 40 pounds—were taken Monday night.

After personally questioning 100 Brooklyn policemen, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine set up a police guard at the homes of three lieutenants formerly attached to the station and ordered the men brought to headquarters for further examination.

The missing records contained complete police data ranging from the name of the defendant and arresting officer down to the final disposition of the case.

Although Commissioner Valentine immediately assigned special guards over all police records in the city pending a thorough checkup, Herlianus denied reports that similar records had been stolen from Manhattan stations.

John Harlan Amen, federal prosecutor appointed by Gov. Lehman to head the inquiry into rumors of graft in Brooklyn official circles, said at Albany yesterday he did not believe the vanished records "are vital to the investigation."

Amen, promised a "free hand" yesterday by the governor, was appointed at the request of Commissioner Herlianus—who does not have the power to prosecute—and over the protest of District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn.

One of Geoghan's former assistants is now awaiting trial on charges he accepted a bribe to "fix" a perjury case.

German Inquiries Cause Speculation Over Philippines

Study of Trade Report Shows Germany, Japan and Italy Have Share in Increased Islands' Trade

'Bloc' Activity

Efforts Have Been Made by Groups to Organize Bloc Among Nationals

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Guarded German inquiries on commercial prospects in the Philippines produced official speculation today whether the Hitler regime was eyeing the Far East as well as South America as a trade outlet.

The most recent inquiry, made by a business man described as influential in Nazi trade councils, caused government officials concerned with Far Eastern affairs to scan late commercial reports. They learned:

Germany, along with Japan and Italy, shared last year in increased sales to the Philippines, despite the islands' free trade ties with the United States.

Germany is building a second new ship for the Philippine government. Italy is constructing two commercial vessels for inter-island trade.

Germany has increased materially its shipping links with the islands and the Far East generally, adding three of the fastest liners connecting the Orient and Europe. Italy last year made Manila a port of call for its liners.

Efforts have been made to organize the Germans living in the Philippines into a bloc, as in other foreign lands.

Regardless of immediate intentions, some officials believe Germany hopes to make future heavy trade gains in the islands and the Far East generally, by capitalizing on political friendship with Tokyo.

Japan has made no secret of the intention to dominate the Orient at least commercially, and already has nibbled at Philippine-American trade in advance of the independence which Congress voted to give the Philippines in 1946.

The 16,000,000 or more Filipinos enjoyed prosperity last year rivaling that of 1929. Exports totaled $176,445,888 and imports $109,000,000, a record favorable balance of trade for the islands.

Because of the free trade ties, the United States continued to dominate, taking 79.82 per cent of all island imports, though supplying but 58.06 per cent of the Filipinos' purchases abroad.

Aside from being an outlet for German manufactured goods, the Philippines produce exports which Germany needs. The islands have developed into a major producer of gold. From them the United States buys virtually all its coconut oil for soap and other purposes.

30,000 People Form Procession Today

Benediction Occurs Late Today at Football Stadium Following Two-Mile March

New Orleans, Oct. 20 (AP)—An estimated 30,000 persons awaited today the signal starting them on a solemn, two mile procession marking the close of the Eighth National Eucharistic Congress.

Plans called for formation of the procession on broad Canal street late in the afternoon, followed by movement to the football stadium in City Park for the benediction, with George Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, Papal legate, as celebrant.

Earlier today came the solemn pontifical Mass for women at City Park, with the Most Rev. Amleto G. Cicognani, D. D., Archbishop of Laodicea and apostolic delegate to the United States, as celebrant.

The sermon, "The Holy Eucharist in a Christian Democracy," was prepared by the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, D. D., Archbishop of Milwaukee.

"Nothing confronts good men today in their efforts to bring about social peace and happiness in justice and brotherliness more than the lack of a practical recognition of the principles of true basic social unity," said Archbishop Stritch.

British Complete Clean-Up Routine Around Jerusalem

Comparative Calm Rules Over Holy City After 30 Months of Almost Continuous Strife Among Factions

Prelude to Task

Greater Job of Imposing Peace Throughout Palestine Now Before Troops

Jerusalem, Oct. 20 (AP)—Comparative calm reigned over this holy city today after 30 months of continuous Arab-Jewish turmoil and bloodshed.

Without the loss of a single British life, British soldiers completed clean-up operations by reconquering the old section.

This drive ended 24 hours of steady military efforts to eliminate nests of rebellious Arabs who had held the old city for four days, and was a prelude to the larger task of crushing a revolt throughout Palestine.

The campaign caused nine Arab deaths and injuries to 18 others. Two British constables and one soldier were wounded. Forty Arabs were taken prisoner.

Soldiers members of the 20,000 troops sent here to restore order—continued searching the warrens of the old city for rebels and their arms caches.

Small groups of Arab prisoners were disarmed and sent to a concentration camp in an excavation on the site of the 2,000-year-old palace of King Herod.

For the first time since Safadin the great vanquished crusaders nearly 800 years ago, Moslem priests failed to call the faithful to prayer from the minarets.

The usual cry, "Allah is great. Allah is our only prophet," was replaced by prayers of Christian monks for the deliverance of the holy city from the terrorism that has claimed nearly 2,000 casualties in the last three months.

As if to indicate they were not completely crushed, scattered Arabs gave a few final gasps in spasmodic firing from concealed hideouts before their guns were silenced.

As the new day dawned, British troops read this order from Major General Robert H. Haining, commander of British forces in Palestine and Trans-Jordan:

"Soldiers! On the threshold of your sacred mission in re-taking the birthplace of three great monotheistic religions of the world, remember one single misdeed or misstep by a single soldier will stain the proud escutcheon of the British Empire.

"I am sure you will all do your duty in the tradition of England's reverence for holy places and her respect for all religions."

Authorities expressed surprise at what they called the feeble resistance of Arabs in the old city. Several bombs were thrown as the rubber-booted troops approached.

Bloodhounds Find ALP Ballot Case

Man, 81, Lying in Woods at Quarry

West Hurley Resident, John McSpirit, Wanders Day and Two Nights—State Animals Are Called

Weakened and exhausted after spending over a day and two nights in the woods off the South Ashokan Boulevard, in the vicinity of West Hurley, John McSpirit, 81, was found at 8 o'clock this morning after the bloodhounds from the barracks of Troop K at Hawthorne had accomplished what an army of Troopers and their deputies, with the aid of numerous civilian hunters, were unable to do despite their best efforts.

McSpirit was found lying in the woods within 15 or 20 feet of one of the deep quarry holes which abound in that section. He was conscious, but not able to speak coherently. Some distance away lay his hat, coat and shoes. The old man when found was trying unsuccessfully to get to his feet and continue his attempts to get back to the home of his brother, Joseph McSpirit, several miles away.

Man Carried Out

The immediate rescue party, consisting of Troopers Kelly and Horton and Allen Schriber, of West Hurley, with the aid of Bert Boomer, Neil Quirk and Harry and Fred Markle, who were summoned by Trooper Kelly, carried the exhausted man some half a mile or more through the woods to a wood road, where he was placed in a car and taken to the home of a neighbor. There he was given restoratives and a doctor summoned.

McSpirit left the home of his brother, Joseph McSpirit, off the South Boulevard, about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, to walk to the home of a neighbor. He failed to return and about five o'clock

Long Term

District Attorney Causes Jury to Be Held From September to Clear Work

The grand jury summoned for the September term of county court reported this afternoon to County Judge Frederick G. Traver and handed up one of the longest reports which has been handed up in Ulster county in many years.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray has held the present grand jury in session since September in order that the criminal work might be cleared up. The present grand jury is the first since last May and because of the fact that there was no trial term of Supreme Court in October, the next grand jury to sit will be in December. To clear up as many cases as possible Mr. Murray has held the final report of the grand jury until this late date in the term.

The grand jury reported 52 indictments, 25 of them sealed and 27 open indictments. There are also 19 cases investigated by the grand jury in which no bills of indictment were found and the grand jury recommended dismissals. These dismissals were filed and the defendants either discharged from custody or bail bonds exonerated.

Open Indictments

Open indictments were found in the following cases:

The People vs. Joseph J. Nagy, robbery, first degree.

The People vs. Matthew D. Brennan, grand larceny, first degree.

The People vs. Howard Gillette, grand larceny, second degree. Gillette pleaded guilty to stealing Dr. Oliver's car.

James F. Curtis, alias James Tobin or John Reagan, and James O'Neill, alias Daniel F. Lyons, robbery, first degree. The two defendants pleaded guilty to robbery, second degree. They stand charged with holding up Mr. Cook along the O. & W. tracks last August.

The People vs. Lonnie Hall, assault, second degree. Hall pleaded guilty to the charge. It was alleged he stabbed one Esker Aubrey in town of Marlborough.

The People vs. Nicholas Saville, rape, second degree. He pleaded guilty.

"R" is for Raisins
Rolled Up in a Roast

Do you serve veal often? Or is it the forgotten meat? Perhaps it's a lack of knowledge of ways to serve veal that keeps you from serving it as often as you do beef or pork or lamb. If that's the reason, it's high time something was done about it, because veal is really the "chicken" of meats. By that I mean that its extremely fine texture, delicate flavor and tender fibers make it an excellent substitute for chicken in salads, soups, creamed dishes and for fricasee. If you haven't tried using it in these ways, you're missing a treat—and a help to the family budget.

But what I started to tell you before I got off the track was how to prepare a roast of veal with a raisin stuffing.

RAISIN STUFFED ROAST VEAL

4 pounds breast of veal, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and fat. Stuffing: 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 1/2 tablespoons granulated sugar, 1 cup yellow corn meal, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 egg, 2/3 cup seedless raisins, 1/3 cup finely cut onions, 1/2 cup chopped mushrooms (fresh or canned), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1 cup broth.

Have butcher bone veal. Rub inside and out with salt and pepper. Sift flour with 1/2 teaspoon salt, baking powder, soda and sugar; add corn meal and mix; add milk and beaten egg and beat well. Fry on hot oiled griddle as for griddle cakes. When all is fried, break into small pieces. Rinse raisins in hot water and drain. Fry onion and mushrooms in small quantity of fat until onion is wilted but not brown. Combine prepared cakes, raisins, onion and mushrooms, salt and pepper, and blend thoroughly. Lay veal out flat, spread stuffing on boned side and roll up as for jelly roll. Sew up or hold firmly together with skewers. More stuffing may be inserted in ends after meat is rolled and sewed. Rub outside with fat and place in baking pan or roaster. Bake uncovered in a moderate oven (325°F.) 3 hours.

Use Them Up

Someone has said "the poor, we have with us always." Well, that's the way I feel about leftovers. So here's a recipe to help you use them up:

SUNDAY NIGHT SPECIAL

Shape left-over cold mashed potatoes into oblong-shaped patties with hollowed out center. Brush outside with egg. Fill hollow with 3 or 4 smoked sardines. Sprinkle lightly with grated cheese. Heat through and brown top in moderate oven.

CRANBERRY PIE

Combine 1 cup ground raw cranberries, 1 cup ground tart apples, 1 cup crushed pineapple, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Pour into unbaked pastry shell.

Cover with pastry and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press
Over Production
Philadelphia—A North Dakota rancher wrote the zoo to send him a couple of boxes and he'd "send some rattlers back."

Curator Roger Conant promptly forwarded the boxes, hoping, he said, to get "maybe three or four" snakes.

But the boxes came back with 219 rattlesnakes—all hungry.

"Now," moaned Conant, "we'll be working day and night shifts chasing mice and birds to feed them."

Parsons, W. Va.—Dr. U. M. Carwell, 65, Hendricks physician, was buried in the coffin fashioned from a black walnut tree he ordered felled for the purpose 20 years ago.

The lumber, seasoned by 20-year storage, was cut and fitted by a carpenter after Dr. Carwell's death.

Unanimous
Eugene, Ore.—"Those of you know what the national debt is, please raise your hands," said Professor Robert Leeper to his University of Oregon class.

No response.

"Those who know the national income, raise your hands."

Again, no response.

"Is it possible this class—future leaders of the country—can't answer these simple questions," the professor fretted.

Silence.

"Well," added the prof, "neither can I."

Hard-Faced Suspects
Kansas City—A woman called police headquarters, reporting two shadowy figures appeared to be preparing to bomb a nearby cleaning shop.

The police dispatcher, remembering other bombings, warned scout car officers to "approach cautiously."

Officers, creeping toward the plant, received the shock of their lives when the suspects greeted them with a "boo!"

The suspects—two youngsters displaying new Halloween false faces.

Mrs. D. C. Van Etten entertained as her dinner guests Sunday, James Zimmerman and wife from Elmira. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Alsdorf and family of Walden were guests for supper.

MILTON

Romer Roe and his sister, Miss Jessie Roe, were moving to their winter home in Brooklyn the past week after having spent the summer here on the Marlborough road. They will return in the spring.

Crushing of grapes for jelly has been going on a 16-hour day basis the past week at the Hudson River Fruit Exchange plant in Milton. The farmers, despite warnings given out by George Hildebrandt manager, have been bringing in the fruit too rapidly. The market for McIntosh apples has stayed firm all the past week and fair quantities have been moving during the past week at from $1.15 to $2.25 a bushel according to George Hildebrandt, manager of the Fruit Exchange. Some of our fruit growers have been selling their grapes to a wine company in New York the past two weeks. Prices being paid by this firm are too low however to tempt the growers. Most of the producers who are selling grapes in bulk prefer the prices being paid by the grape juice company in Highland or the Hudson River Fruit Exchange in Milton, where the price is substantially higher. Many have been packing in baskets for the city trade and often do better than in bulk sales.

O'BRIAN ON LABOR QUESTION
To the many millions of unemployed and especially the young people who have never had a job and who have never yet been able to find an opportunity to work, the question of securing employment must be uppermost in their minds. The recent attack on Senator Wagner for blindly following President Roosevelt and for sponsoring legislation which keeps apart employers with jobs and workers who want to work must have commanded the attention of these men and women who are being deprived of their right to jobs.
The attack on Senator Wagner, who was the leader in Congress of the labor policy of the government, was made by John Lord O'Brien, Republican candidate for U. S. Senate. Mr. O'Brien charged that the partisan administration of the Wagner Labor Law has not only frequently disrupted the relations between employer and employee but it has split the ranks of labor in all parts of the country and brought confusion and demoralization into business and industry.
His straightforward declaration on the unemployment problem is very impressive and in part is as follows:
"One obstacle which has increased the general sense of insecurity and uncertainty, and which is a direct obstacle across the path of those trying to find work, is found in the situation resulting from the operations of the National Labor Relations Act....
"The trouble with the statute is the one-sided procedure which it provides for the settlement of disputes and the biased way in which so many decisions have been made under it."
"With the objectives and with the basic principles of the National Labor Act I am in full accord. I desire to have collective bargaining firmly established. I approve its prohibition of unfair practices and of all of its guarantees of protection to the wage earner."
"In considering the changes that are necessary, I find myself in accord with most of the procedural amendments recently advocated by the American Federation of Labor. For example, no hearing should be held by the board except upon notice to all interested parties; the right to subpoena witnesses should be guaranteed to all parties. Secret reports and files should be abolished. Every person having an interest in the dispute should be permitted to intervene; the caliber of the trial examiners should be improved and the board should be compelled to make speedy decisions."
"The heat and passion so frequently resulting from these disputes make it particularly necessary that the prosecutor should not also be the judge. If the Labor Board is to continue the practice of making investigation, filing complaints, and prosecuting the cases, then in all fairness the final decision should be made by a different and impartial board or tribunal, but all of this should and can be kept in the field of informal and inexpensive procedure."
"If the simple changes which I have suggested as to procedure can be secured, public opinion, now suspicious and critical, can be brought to the support of this statute and to the labor cause in a degree perhaps never heretofore known."

LAYMEN'S FAITH
The most important of President Roosevelt's recent utterances perhaps, is not a state paper or a political speech, but just a little sermon. It appeared in his letter to Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans on the occasion of the eighth National Eucharistic Congress.
It was a simple expression of his belief that there is probably no problem in the world today—social, political or economic—"that would not find a happy solution if approached in the spirit of the Sermon on the Mount."
It is by no means an unfamiliar idea. Business and professional men have joined the ministers in expressing such views. Many insist that the principles set forth in that great sermon are economic and political truths just as much as religious truths.

Some of our leading economists and editors are inclined to think that, for practical modern living, you can boil the whole thing down to the Golden Rule, or that the simple principle Good Will, if generally practised, would solve these economic, political and international problems that are now tearing the world apart.
Do people prefer charity to work? Well, when Washington, D. C., wanted cleaning women for public buildings, 25,000 responded, many of them waiting all night before the doors.
Yes, if we're going to "dump" surplus farm stuff we'd better give Americans the benefit of it instead of foreigners; but it's a delicate business.
This is the time of year when nothing looks so beautiful as Nature, except the latest model car.
Observing what these various "ideologies" are doing to nations, we'd rather go by astrology.

TRUE BLOOD PRESSURE
There was a time when operation was the favorite topic of conversation among middle-aged men and women. Operation could include removal of appendix, gall bladder, or kidney, the repair of a hernia or rupture, or other condition. Today the favorite topic appears to be blood pressure because high blood pressure may cause a stroke of apoplexy, an attack of heart disease (coronary thrombosis) or an acute kidney attack. There is therefore a real reason why high blood pressure should be feared.
What so many fail to remember is that real healthy bloodvessels with their elastic coats in good condition can be made to tighten by this very fear of high blood pressure.
It is not unusual for a physician to take the blood pressure and heart rate at the very beginning of an examination and then at the end of the examination take the blood pressure and heart rate again. In the majority of cases it will be found that at the end of the examination the blood pressure and heart rate will be lower than at the beginning.
Why is the blood pressure usually lower when taken the second time?
An answer to this question is recorded recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association.
"There are two reasons for the difference in the readings. Even apparently stolid or placid persons frequently feel some apprehension or fear as the blood pressure is taken and hence the first reading is found at a higher level. Also the muscles of the arm are held tight or tense (especially if the arm is not in a comfortable position) causing a higher reading. As the patient gains reassurance the arm is relaxed thus not pressing so hard against the arm band. Care taken to have the arm in a comfortable and relaxed position will help to prevent a high reading due to muscle tightness or tension.
It is a good plan to record the first reading and also the last reading after the patient is reassured and relaxed. It gives some idea of how much the patient responds to nervous suggestion or stimulus."
The thought then during a physical examination is to keep body and mind relaxed so that the true blood pressure can be measured.

Don't Marry the Man

By JEANNE BOWMAN

The Characters
Kathleen Gregory: youngest member of the Gregory family goes West incognito to marry a rich man from MacDonal for the sake of The Golden Girl mine.
Donald MacDonald: young owner of The Stubborn Boy mine hates the Gregorys as much as they hate him.
Bridget: Kathleen's companion.
Yesterday: Kathleen writes her father she intends to finish the job without his interference. Donald's mother arrives.
Chapter 19
Angus And Beatrice
DONALD'S cousin, Norman MacDonald, had accompanied his aunt. He was a year or so older than Donald; with his looks and without his arbitrary manner, he fascinated both girls. But he concentrated on Bridget.
In fact both young men did, leaving Kathleen with Mrs. MacDonald, a slightly bewildered Kathleen, unaccustomed to being ignored in so pointed a fashion.
"I can't blame them," she thought. "She is lovely and as dear as she is lovely, only—" The wistful look in her dark eyes won the woman who was watching her. This wasn't the hot headed young spit-fire her son had forewarned her to expect. That is what she thought then, she changed her mind soon after dinner was over.
Donald, going to the rear of the house for more logs, came in frowning. "Kit-Smyth's coming up the drive. Our drive if you please. Now what is he up to?"
Kathleen and Bridget exchanged glances of alarm which were promptly misinterpreted by the MacDonalds.
"You don't have to worry this time," Young Donald advised. "I'm going to handle that baby as he should be—"
"Son," interposed his mother as he strode towards the door, "this is Thanksgiving and this is my home. I'll meet him."
At her bidding Kit-Smyth entered, a perturbed Kit-Smyth who twisted his hat in his hands. He wanted to see the young ladies. He wanted to talk to them alone. Well, all right then, he'd talk right here. "Listen," he began, "you and your patients have got to get out of that house right now. I'll fix you up at the hotel free of charge, but get out quick. The Gregorys are in town and they intend moving in, pronto."
"What Gregorys?" interposed Donald unbelievably.
"Young Angus and his... well I guess it's his sister, name's Gregory."
Kathleen swallowed. Her throat had become very dry. "Why can't they stay at the hotel?" she asked. The sound emitted by Kit-Smyth resembled an explosion. "You should hear him!" he cried. "You should hear what he says about the place!"
Bridget's laugh rang out. "He owns it, doesn't he? Cheer up, Mr. Kit-Smyth, we'll move. And we'll have to send our patients to Carsted. Lucky they're all recuperating. You're in rather a tight spot aren't you?"
"Kit-Smyth ran a finger around his collar. "Sure nice of you, I'll make up for the inconvenience, somehow. If you'll come over now and toss your things out the rear way, I'll have Joey-wide-eyes pick them up and carry them to the hotel."
"But that is foolish," interposed Mrs. MacDonald. "Norman, you and Donald can stay at the end of the girls can come in here with me. They'll be much more comfortable."
"Infernal Hole!"
It was thus arranged and Kathleen, Bridget and Mrs. MacDonald went over to pack and move. They would carry things to the rear veranda and the boys would move them over to the MacDonald side.
For the next hour the Gregory house hummed with activity. Kit-Smyth would call for the visiting Gregorys the moment the house was clear. He had told them he was having it cleaned, aired and warmed.
The girls were making their last trip downstairs when footsteps sounded on the front veranda. The door was swung wide and in stalked Angus Gregory, Beatrice in his wake.
"Of all the infernal holes," he was exclaiming. "To think that the name of Gregory, I'll fire that man! I could run a better hostelry with one finger."
Behind him came Beatrice Gregory, stopping to stomp out a cigarette.
Kathleen looked down at Bridget. Angus Gregory's former secretary was trapped on the lower stairs. He had told her was Mrs. MacDonald, her face alight with interest.
"Here," thought Kathleen, "goes our identity in one fell swoop. How can I stop it?"
Aloud she caroled.
"Try running it with one finger and see what it's like to run it on nothing at all like that poor fellow is doing."

Her ruse succeeded for only a moment. Angus looked at his daughter, then Bridget moved and he looked at her. The massive Gregory hands met behind the Gregory back. The Gregory feet rocked in their shoes; then, properly warmed up, the Gregory voice bellowed. "What in... what are you doing here?"
Kit-Smyth, who had heard the Gregorys arrive, rushed in just in time to hear the question.
"Yes, yes, Mr. Gregory," he hastened to explain, "these young ladies are the two I had brought up from the village to prepare the house for you."
"Just a couple of working girls trying to get along," affirmed Kathleen, striving to check the tirade she felt Angus was about to turn on Bridget.
Angus Gregory looked at his daughter, sputtered, then turned his wrath to a safer subject. "That infernal hotel," he began. "Only one bathroom in the whole place. No heat in the rooms. Not a thing fit for a man to eat in that hole they call a grill room—"
"So you can't take it?" queried Kathleen, and blocked Angus as Bridget slipped past her and out of the door.
Beatrice Gregory, who had been lighting one of her chain of cigarettes, found her voice. "Take it!" she snapped. "Young lady, someone should have taken you when you were small and used a hair brush!"
Kathleen smiled at her aunt. "You should know," she observed lightly. "If good little girls stay small from pats on the head I know what made you so tall." She escaped from the room.
Mrs. MacDonald, who had remained in the shadows hurried after Kathleen, convulsed with laughter. Reaching her own living room she said to her son, "Donald, this child doesn't need anyone to defend her. She's completely capable of handling her own battles."
Donald looked at Kathleen with a teasing, admiring glance. "I was afraid of that," he admitted.
Kathleen's mood of the afternoon changed in the twinkling of his eyes. She was gay, audacious, seeking some outlet for the sudden joyous excitement which possessed her.
A Fairy Circle
SHE found a baby-grand piano in a far corner of the room and made it ring with popular selections. She sang her own accompaniments in a low, throaty, chuckling voice and flirted with Norman so outrageously that Donald deserted Bridget to join her.
And then they sang together, sang to each other while the others beat in rhythm to their melodies, a rhythm Kathleen didn't hear because she felt for the moment that the two, she and Donald, were alone.
The midnight chimes of the clock stopped them. The two young men left for the hotel and Kathleen, in the room assigned her, contrarily threw herself onto the bed and burst into tears, muffled the sobs with her pillow.
She had been ashamed of her people. Angus loved them so. Mrs. MacDonald wouldn't know that Angus wasn't really gruff and unjust; that he was only worried, terribly worried and thoughtful.
And Mrs. MacDonald couldn't know that Aunt Beatrice would not have been rude to a stranger; particularly a maid; that when Aunt Beatrice rubbed against her niece she was always sparks flying.
"But why," he could without taking a breath and Top Notch tried to beat him in crawling. No one quite knew who really won because Top Notch did take a breath or two even though he lasted much longer.
Then Jelly Bear and Honey Bear had a wrestling match, and the cubs pretended that they were worried and tried to stop them.
Then all the Puddle Muddlers took hold of each other's wing or paw or webbed foot and danced around in a circle singing:
We've all been off a-traveling,
We're not early at our best,
But if you clap your hands for us
We'll feel we've met the test.
The little girl clapped and clapped anyway and wanted to pat each Puddle Muddler.
The bears bowed low at Christopher Columbus Crow stood on Willy Nilly's head and bowed so deeply that he fell right off—which was what he had intended to do.
Tomorrow—"Success"
The final plans for the Annual Succoth Celebration, Conference and Agricultural Exhibit to be held on Sunday, October 23, at Yaffe's Breeze Lawn Hotel, Ellenville, N. Y., have been completed. It was announced today.
The morning session will be devoted to poultry and dairy; the afternoon session to demonstration judging of cows, horses, ponies, vegetables, fruit and domestic science articles. There will be inter-county contests between farmers from Ulster, Sullivan and Orange counties in horse shoe pitching, three legged races, bag races and soft ball.
A picnic lunch will be served at 1 o'clock.
The exhibits of fruits, vegetables, poultry and others, will be auctioned off and 50 per cent of the proceeds will be turned over to the United Jewish Campaign.
An attendance of several hundred is expected.
Used Lots of Ink
Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo. (AP)—Tourists who crossed Fall River Pass this summer used 1 1/2 quarts of ink and wore out 28 pens points in registering at the park museum. Raymond Gregg, park naturalist, said 22,536 persons signed the museum register, but that they were only about one-fifth of the persons who visited the place.

Sundown Stories

More Tricks
"NOW," said Willy Nilly, "my lamb, whose name is Sweet Face, will sing a little bleating song."
Sweet Face stood before the little girl and though he looked for his meadow and felt rather foolish with a ribbon around his neck he sang his best bleating song. It went like this:
Bleat, bleat, bleat,
Things can be sweet, sweet, sweet,
Or they can be sad, sad, sad,
But let's be glad, glad, glad.
"Oh, you adorable lamb," cried the little girl, "I almost think I understand you and you have the sweetest face in the world. Please come and sit by me."
The lamb went over and sat by the little girl and her parents were happy for it was the first real interest she had shown in anything.
Now Rip stood on his hind legs and danced and did sums in arithmetic. Then the ducks gave a quacking chorus and had a waddling race. After this Christopher Columbus Crow had a contest with Top Notch. Christopher tried crawling as long as he could without taking a breath and Top Notch tried to beat him in crawling. No one quite knew who really won because Top Notch did take a breath or two even though he lasted much longer.
Then Jelly Bear and Honey Bear had a wrestling match, and the cubs pretended that they were worried and tried to stop them.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER
WASHINGTON—From Spain, China, and the United States army it is possible now to assemble a good picture of what will be necessary to protect our big cities from air attack in the next war—to the extent they can be protected.
The stage was set at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, for a sample demonstration of one of the most pretentious air shows the army ever prepared. At the fort were assembled all the anti-aircraft guns east of the Rocky Mountains (it is a tiny handful, if you want to know). Assembled also were fleets of bombers, fast pursuit and combat planes from all over the country.
The problem was simply to test out how to beat off a strong enemy bombing raid on an important air station. For practical purposes it could be Pittsburgh's steel mills, or the Warren, Pa., oil fields.
Over a zone nearly 200 miles in all directions from the fort, observers were posted in church steeples, fire towers, on water tanks or other elevated points from which they scanned the skies for approaching planes. Every eight miles there was such an observation post so that nearly half of North Carolina was checker-boarded with watching men.
Civilians Lead A Hand
TWO thousand civilians manned the observation posts. Each volunteered his services for the test, just as he might be called upon to do in time of war.
Each had a telephone connecting directly with the central control room of the defense center. Two miles outside the fort a ring of anti-aircraft batteries was stationed. The batteries were 2 1/2 miles apart so that a fleet of planes coming from any direction would be under fire at least two batteries of six guns each. The guns can shoot high explosive shells six miles—30,000 feet—into the air.

Two rings of machine guns circled the fort, while batteries of search lights were spotted far enough away to illuminate the planes the moment they came within range.
Far out on the rim of lookout stations the observers reported the approach of bombing planes by telephone to central headquarters. Pursuit planes were ordered into the air, or, if already aloft, they were told where the planes had been sighted.
Fighters Follow Bombers
SOMETIMES the bombers were accompanied by their own pursuit and combat planes. Some of these may engage the defense planes while others "hogtie" the anti-aircraft guns or disable search light batteries. To meet this low-flying attack is the job of the rings of machine guns. The defense would order a "black-out" to blanket all lights; but enemy planes would drop huge flares.
A problem not yet solved is how to set up a defense net for sea coast cities. There aren't any water tanks, fire towers or tall trees in the ocean, and studding the sea for 200 miles out with ships would be quite a task.
And can observers spot planes 20,000 feet in the air, at night?

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker
NEW YORK—Actors and actresses speak their minds sometimes, even when married to one another, as witness this scene from the private lives of Charles Laughton and his wife, Elsa Lanchester.
It seems that Mr. Laughton is somewhat fat, as confessed by himself and also by his wife. Remarkings on this in a preface to his biography, which was written by Mrs. Laughton, Charles says:
"When I was rehearsing in 'On the Spot,' Edgar Wallace's play, in which I had to wear smart clothes and go about the stage kissing the women, I came home one night in a state of despair, sulky and nasty, and said to Elsa: 'I know they (the public) won't stand for this. I've got a face like an elephant's... and in this play I have to do the big sex act'... She turned on me like the proverbial tiger cat and whipped out: 'How dare you presume you are unattractive! Hold your shoulders back, keep your head up and smile, so that I can hold my head up with other women! Can you beat that? I owe her plenty!'"
YOU will find this excerpt in the preface of "Charles Laughton and I."
For instance, "On one night of the year when the moon is full, a strange thing happens on the Pacific coast. There are little fish called grunion that come up on the beach in great numbers on a moonlit night. They stand up on their tails, twiddle around and go back to deep water.... One night when we were at the Thalbergs' house I saw Jean Harlow with a little fish in her hand. It was alive, and she put it into a bowl of flowers."
I HAD an idea that it might be a grunion as they were about

This Lincoln story has a point to others besides young lawyers: In his early days as a lawyer, Abraham Lincoln had a hard struggle to keep his head above water, but he took his difficulties with good humor.

On one occasion he remarked, "Circumstances alter cases, but I wish I could get hold of some cases that would alter my circumstances."

Another thing which is not an asset is a worried expression.

Tommy was meandering home-ward much later than his usual supper time. A friend of the family who happened to meet him said:

Friend—Why, Tommy aren't you afraid you'll be late for supper?
Tommy—Nope. I've got the meat!

When someone starts selling, someone starts making.
When someone starts making, someone starts working.
When someone starts working, someone starts earning.

This little yard reflects the simple life in its simplest form: While traveling through Alabama a young salesman was one day forced to dine at a farmhouse.

Not being well satisfied with his meal of cornbread and white bacon, he asked if he might have a glass of milk.

Host—No, I don't reckon you'll find any milk around here since the dog got lost.

Stranger—Since the dog got lost? What's that got to do with it?

Host—Why, who do you-all reckon's goin' to go an' fetch the cow?

Meeker—The same as the difference between you asking me for money and going through my pockets when I'm asleep.

Here is another example of what education can do: A young woman who came to Columbia to take her degree of doctor of philosophy married her professor in the middle of the second year.

When she announced her engagement, one of her friends said: "But, Margaret, I thought you came up here to get your Ph. D."

"So I did," agreed Margaret, "but I had no idea I would get him so soon."

There are dangers enough on the highway when both cars and drivers are in as good condition as they can possibly be kept. So far as possible other elements of risk should be eliminated.

Car trouble is often hard to locate. It's a wonder we don't get more of this kind:

Reckless Driver—I believe there must be something wrong with this car. I hear the cylinders knocking!

Passenger—It isn't the cylinders, it's my knees.

24¢ A DAY TO HEAT THIS HOME.!!

Last year, this home on Esopus Avenue, Kingston, was heated with GAS for an average cost of only $7.26 per month.

FOR THIS SMALL AMOUNT THE PEOPLE WHO LIVE HERE HAD COMPLETE AUTOMATIC HEATING. From the first cool days of Fall until the warm days of Spring they never gave their furnace a thought. They had no fuel to order, no fires to tend, no drafts to adjust, no ashes to get rid of. They had clean, even, healthful heat all the way!

This is just one of the many hundreds of homes in the Central Hudson Region enjoying carefree heating at moderate cost!

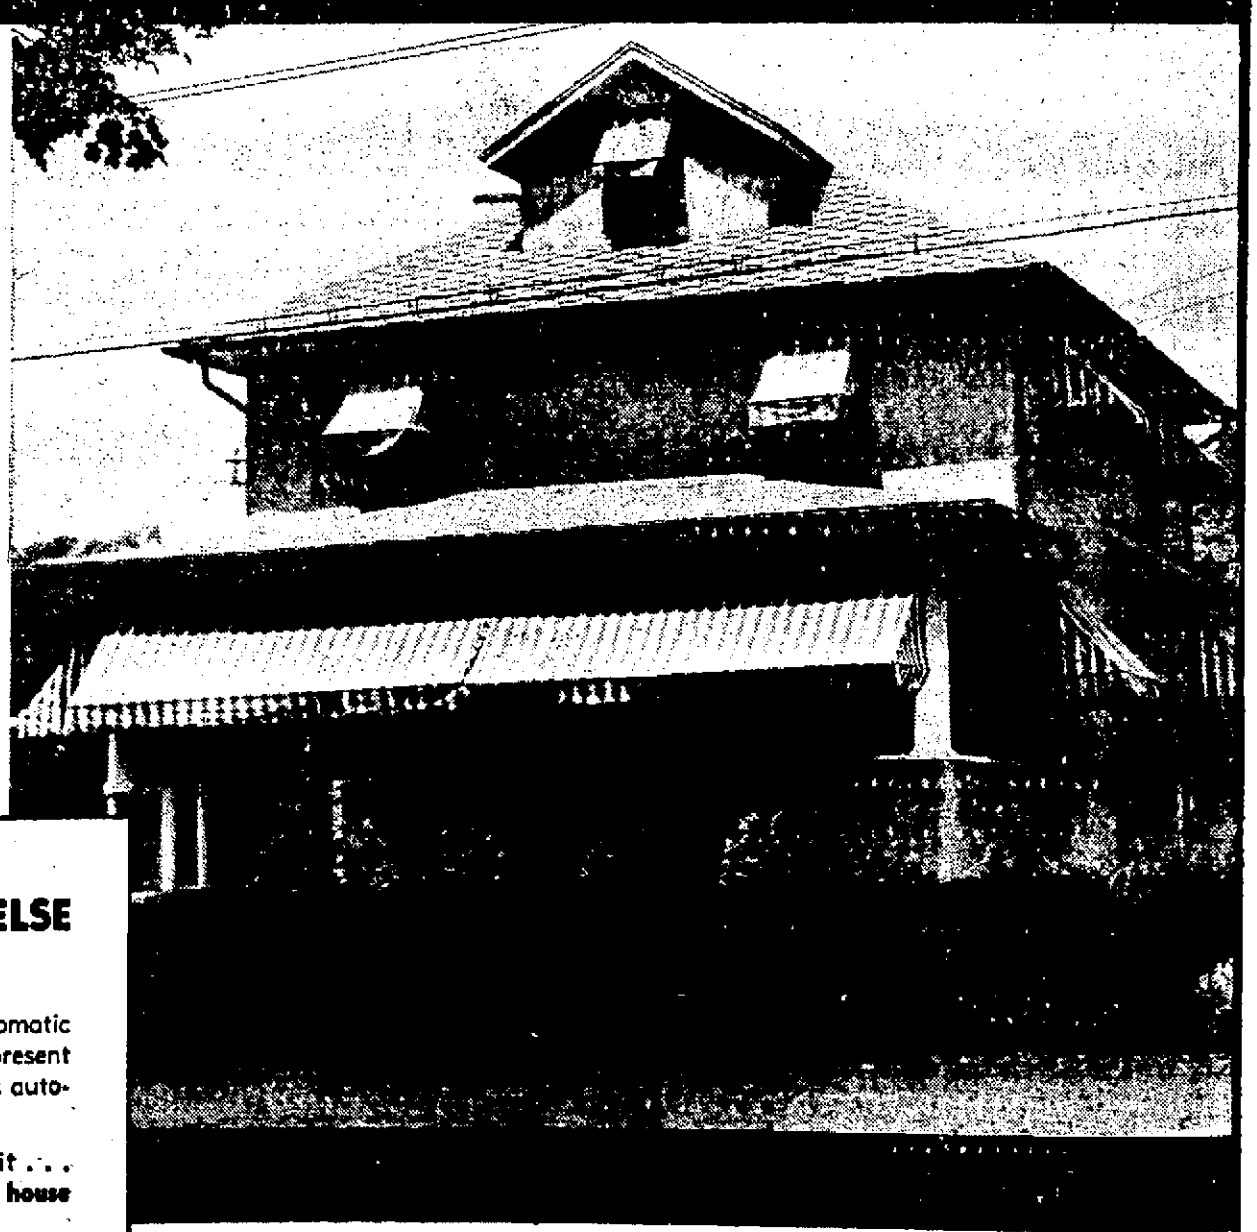

Why not have your home "measured" and find out EXACTLY what it would cost you to heat your home this ideal way. Telephone your company and arrange to have a trained heating engineer call at your convenience. He will prepare a carefully calculated estimate—an estimate that will be your GUARANTEED HEATING BILL for the first year.

HERE'S SOMETHING ELSE TO REMEMBER . . .

You do not require any expensive equipment for complete automatic gas house heating. A little burner which slips inside your present furnace . . . warm air, hot water or steam . . . together with its automatic controls, is all the equipment you need.

$1.00 A MONTH, plus a small installation charge, pays for it . . . the lowest price of any equipment for complete automatic house heating.

Find Out What Makes You Constipated!

You know that constipation often gives you that dopey, runken, bogged down feeling. Why not get at the cause and prevent it? If you eat what millions do—things like bread, meat and potatoes—the chances are all that the matter with you is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean what you may think. It's a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft bulky mass in the intestines that aids elimination.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine! Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and see if the old world doesn't look a lot brighter! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Toboggan Plans For Lawton Park

Kingston may have a first class toboggan run this winter. Sidney Lutin of the Department of Recreation today announced that a National Youth Administration project was being drawn up for the construction of such a run at Lawton Park. Plans for the toboggan run, which will be over half a mile long, were drawn up by Louis A. Lewis, construction supervisor of the county N. Y. A., and have been approved by City Engineer James Norton. Mr. Lewis has had a great deal of experience in the construction of winter sports facilities. Including the popular toboggan run at Woodstock, and predicts that the

Nazis to Attempt Czech Mediation

Berlin, Oct. 20 (AP).—Nazi officials were placed in the delicate position today of trying to mediate the claims of three of Germany's friends to parts of Czechoslovakia.

Poland and Hungary, old allies of Germany, want a joint frontier formed by Hungary's annexation of sections of Ruthenia and Slovakia, newly granted autonomy by the Prague government.

Czechoslovakia, the newest friend, already shrunken by grants to Germany, Poland and Hungary, wants to keep what she has left. Representatives were sent to Germany or each other's capitals to plead their respective cases.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler left the dispute in the hands of his foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, and went to Linz en route to Sudetenland to complete a tour of mass German troops occupied October 1-10.

Despite the delicacy of the situation, foreign office circles expressed optimism that joint German-Italian activity would solve the tangled questions of Czechoslovak minorities.

Informed quarters said the arrival of four Czech ministers was awaited this week-end in an effort to facilitate normalization of German-Czech relations. Three diplomats—Slovak Prime Minister Dr. Joseph T. Dr. Ferdinand Durclanek, and Ruthenian Minister Edmund Bacinski—presented their side of the case to Ribbentrop yesterday at Munich.

Foreign Minister Joseph Beck of Poland talked—vainly it was said—with King Carol of Rumania about dismembering Ruthenia, the eastern end of Czechoslovakia. Carol Sidor, a special Slovak delegate, went to Warsaw to learn Poland's attitude toward the vaxia and said the Slovaks would not oppose a joint Hungarian-Polish frontier if the Ruthenians wanted to join Hungary.

Hungary awaited anxiously a decision on whether Slovaks and Ruthenians would be granted the right that Hungary demands of voting on union with Hungary.

Little sympathy was apparent here toward the Polish-Hungarian desire for a joint border, but officials felt they cannot bluntly tell the allies that.

German officials said: "What Chancellor Hitler's final word will be is not known. The principle of self-determination has been our yardstick, but whether it will be used in this case cannot now be predicted, as the matter is complicated."

The letter M has varied only slightly in design from early Phoenician times to the present day.

Gain Is Noted In Scout Drive

Reports given for the Kingston area in the annual Boy Scout drive at the Y. M. C. A. last evening continued to indicate more favorable results than a year ago.

The total subscriptions last night reached 587 as against 348 a year ago on the third report.

Team No. 12, with George Kennedy captain, was the winning men's team and Team No. 18, with Mrs. Louis Keger, captain, carried the honors for the women. In the division totals the women's division is leading with 251 total, while R. H. Broughton's Division comes next with 195. S. D. Scudder's Division has 63 and S. J. Messenger's division has 59.

It was announced that over 750 prospect cards were still in the hands of the workers. Chairman Freer said he felt sure if they covered the cards in the hands of the workers there would be no doubt about the outcome, which looks most encouraging.

E. A. Freer, chairman of the Kingston district, presided, the Rev. Russell Gaenzle, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, gave the invocation, and the Hon. Bernard A. Culliton brought a word of greeting to the workers.

Judge Culliton urged the workers to keep their chin up and although the task of collecting funds was a somewhat discouraging job, yet the task they were working on was a most commendable one and deserved the support of every thinking person.

The fourth report this evening will begin promptly at 6:29.

George B. Matthews will preside, Rabbi Bloom will give the invocation and the speaker of the evening will be District Attorney Cleon B. Murrahy.

Mayor Is Asked To Consider Sick At Local Hospital

The Board of Managers of the Kingston Hospital at the meeting this week at the hospital received complaints from patients and members of the administrative body of the hospital of the noises outside the hospital at night.

making sleep and rest impossible.

In a communication to Mayor C. J. Heiselman the board states that "there appears to be little or no attention paid to noises of 'hospital zone' asking for quiet, which are erected on Broadway near the hospital."

The board writes further "Motor bikes, loud conversation of loiterers in front of the hospital and other unnecessary disturbances should have some check, and the board has directed the president and secretary to call your attention to these conditions asking the cooperation of the mayor and police department in correcting same."

Mayor Heiselman said this morning that the police department is making a check on the complaint, and he is asking the cooperation of residents of the city to observe the request of the hospital patients so that they may be able to obtain some sleep at night.

The mayor especially asks that traffic proceeding up and down Broadway in front of the hospital proceed as quietly as possible without unnecessary blowing of horns.

Rotary Club Sees Pictures of Hunt

John Davenport of High Falls entertained members of Rotary at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton, with colored moving pictures of big game hunting in Canada. Mr. Davenport showed pictures taken by him on a hunting trip in the Canadian wilds north of Quebec, at which time they shot and brought out one of the largest moose taken in that section that season. Their trophy had antlers that measured 57 inches across.

The pictures showed the shooting of the big animal and the work of getting him out of the woods; also details of the camp and the magnificent scenery that abounds in that part of the country.

'Col. Gimp' Gets Cell, Can't Give $50,000 Bail Bond

Los Angeles, Oct. 20 (AP)—"Col. Gimp" of the Great White Way, Martin Snyder, again occupied a jail cell in lieu of $50,000 bail today while the state moved to try him quickly on charges he kidnapped and attempted to murder Myrl Alderman, his successor to Singer Ruth Etting's love.

The official charges against "Col. Gimp" were superseded last night by a grand jury indictment voted after Miss Etting testified that she shot Alderman in the music room of her Hollywood Hills home last Saturday night.

Miss Etting said Alderman drove up to the house with Snyder holding a pistol against his back. Once inside, she said, Snyder told her, Alderman, and Edith Snyder, his step-daughter, that "I'm going to kill all of you."

One bullet from Snyder's pistol went wild, she continued, but the second struck Alderman in the abdomen as the lights in the room went out.

She told of running into the bedroom to get her own revolver, a struggle with Snyder for its possession, and of Edith, her secretary, retrieving the weapon from the floor and firing at her father's retreating back.

"Col. Gimp" did not testify, on advice of his attorney, Jerry Olesner, but indicated he acted in self-defense.

A process server took the opportunity to hand Miss Etting a copy of the $150,000 love theft suit filed against her by Alderman's second wife, Alma, who later announced through her lawyer that she wished a reconciliation with the 30-year-old shooting victim whom she divorced last December.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coates

HOLLYWOOD—The war scare only emphasized a realization that has been coming to Hollywood these past few years.

War in Europe would mean drastically curtailed production budgets in Hollywood. The foreign market, despite all the restrictions and handicaps that have been piling up against Hollywood product abroad, still represents about 40 per cent of the local income from pictures. War would remove practically all of this revenue, and pictures would have to be made correspondingly cheaper to show a profit on American distribution alone.

The day when a film's tremendous cost was used as an asset in exploitation is practically gone.

TODAY, and ever since the 1929 depression, Hollywood has been money-conscious in a different sense. It is not fashionable to talk about costs, and the quieter you keep those big salaries the happier the stars will be. When a popular picture comes along that didn't cost a mint, that's the time for bragging.

For all that, last year saw Hollywood spending millions on super-spectaculars on celluloid. This year, faced by rising costs of labor, materials and talent, the industry has not been so reckless.

And it can be done, as some of the year's most popular films have demonstrated.

Outstandingly, there is "Love Finds Andy Hardy," a cleaner-upper at its cost of about $200,000.

Another one—this from Republic where the overhead is slight—"Tenth Avenue Kid." This came in for an estimated $55,000, and moreover it unearthed a new boy "find" in Tommy Ryan, the title character.

EVERYBODY remembers "Boy of the Streets." Like Republic, Monogram is unburdened with a major studio's overhead, and this one made huge profits over its cost of $50,000 or so. It likewise resists Jackie Cooper to the pay-windows, and brings him back to the same studio for a repeat in "Gangster's Boy."

Virtually every studio occasionally turns out these "sleepers," or unpretentious pictures which click in a way to amaze the studio.

RKO has one now in "A Man to Remember." It's a simple story about a country doctor and what he does in the big city, and it has something you'll remember. What astounds Hollywood is its cost, a mere $119,000.

German Refugee To Speak Here

Miss Louise Gismond was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Relyea, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Esther Williams, of Fort Lee, N. J. Mary Ann Leber of Waverly, Pa., was flower girl. The bride wore white satin, a tulle veil draped from a cap of lace, and

"For finer-textured doughnuts—
use quick-dissolving Jack Frost!"DOUGHNUTS (Makes about 30)

5½ cups sifted flour (about) 2 eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder 1½ cups Jack Frost
1½ teaspoon soda 2 tablespoons melted
1½ teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sour milk ¼ cup sour milk
¼ cup sugar ¼ cup sugar
Jack Frost Extra-Fine Powdered Sugar

1. Sift flour. Measure. Sift again with baking powder, soda, salt, and spices.
2. Beat eggs until light and fluffy.
3. Add Jack Frost Granulated Sugar, beating well. (Jack Frost is so fine-grained and quick-dissolving, it gives baked things a finer, closer texture.)
4. Stir in melted shortening.
5. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour milk, stirring until well blended. (Dough should be as soft as can be handled.)
6. Roll on floured board to ¼-inch thickness. Cut with floured doughnut cutter.
7. Fry in deep fat hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 1 minute (375° F.). Cook doughnuts until golden brown, turning once.
8. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with Jack Frost Extra-Fine Powdered Sugar.

Bloodhounds Find Man at Quarry

The sheriff's office was notified. Sheriff Molyneux directed Deputies McCullough, Young, Segel, Ken and DeSilva to join Troopers Dunn and Senechal in a search for the missing man. The officers scoured the country in the West Hurley section for the better part of the night, but without success. The search was renewed Wednesday, with others joining in and Wednesday night Deputies Vredenburg and Winne worked till nearly midnight traveling possible clues.

When all efforts had proved vain Sheriff Molyneux called upon Troop K at Hawthorne, asking for the aid of their trained bloodhounds and was told that a man was leaving at once with the dogs. At 1.15 this morning Trooper Horton from Hawthorne, with the bloodhounds, "Monk" and "Sappho," arrived in Kingston and accompanied by Troopers Kelly and Dunn, with Allen Schuler accompanying them to act as a guide, left for West Hurley and took up the search. After working till six o'clock this morning without success, a temporary halt was called, but later the search was again taken up and within 20 minutes the dogs had led the officers to where McSpirt lay and the long hunt was over.

Known as Turkey Hollow. The place where the aged man was found is known locally as Turkey Hollow. By the path he must have taken it is three or four miles from the McSpirt home. Apparently the aged man had been trying to make his way to an old road, now abandoned, which would take him out of the woods and to his brother's home. One of the deputies who had been engaged in the search said that McSpirt was last seen about one o'clock Tuesday and at that time was near the place where he must have entered the woods. He added that during the search he and others went over the section where he was found and must have passed very close to where he was finally picked up.

The two bloodhounds who succeeded in locating the missing man are the same ones that were used some time since in locating a missing woman on Ticey Mountain, back of Shokan, and were in charge of the same man, Trooper Horton, who has had charge of their training.

Ban on Hunting Still in Effect

The ban on hunting in any of the territory embraced in the counties of Ulster, Sullivan, Greene or Delaware as well as in the Adirondacks, has not been lifted. Inspector Fred DeWitt of the Kingston office of the Conservation Department stated this morning.

He said that when the ban is lifted it will be broadcast by radio and published in the local papers.

Many inquiries have come into the Kingston office, following the light rain this morning. The inspector said that what rain has fallen so far has not helped much, that vegetation and growth in the forests must be well dampened down before danger from fire is reasonably assured and that to accomplish that it would probably take two or three days rain.

The big fire that has been raging in the town of Forestburgh, Sullivan county, about five miles south of Monticello, on the Bradford estate, was put out yesterday. The fire burned over an area of more than two square miles, some sixteen or seventeen hundred acres in all and over 500 men have been engaged in fighting it.

The section burned is covered mostly with heavy timber and heavy underbrush. No buildings were burned and it is possible that the timber may not have been destroyed.

Packard Reemployment

Los Angeles, Oct. 20 (AP)—William Packard, general sales manager of the Packard Motor Car Company, said today a force of 12,000 workers at the concern's plant in Detroit may be doubled within the next few weeks. "We have recovered from the fall slump of 1937," he said. "Business is now about the same as when we hit that drop, but the trend is up instead of down." Increased sales in "conservative small towns," and a "good used car situation," have contributed to the automobile industry's recovery, Packard declared.

And Now on Wedding Trip

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A 54-day voyage across the Atlantic ocean in a 46-year-old, 45-foot pleasure boat, the lifeboat of the ill-fated Anna Lynn, is planned to sail the craft on a two-year wedding trip to the south seas. Miss Bjornes, husky daughter of a retired Norwegian whaling captain, made the trip to meet her fiancé, Captain Charles A. Crownfield, a United States hull inspector, of Stamford, Conn. Accompanied by a four-man crew, she left Tonsboro, Norway, July 10 in her trim ketch, the Colla Archer, and arrived September 27.

Moral Health Good

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The moral health of New York state welfare clients has come through the depression in good condition, David S. Adie, state commissioner of public welfare, told a state welfare conference here. Adie, in urging abolition of fee welfare units in favor of larger county units also pointed out the value of home relief as a type that helped the family as a whole.

Guild Plans Dance

The Women's Guild of St. Peter's Church, Stone Ridge, is planning a social time at Liggett's Casino, Stone Ridge, Friday evening, October 28. Dancing will start at 8:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served during the evening. There will be a nominal admission at the door.

Civics Students Study Government

The civics class of the Kingston High School this afternoon began the annual study of city government in Kingston, and classes will be held every Thursday and Friday afternoon at the city hall when the students will meet with the heads of the various departments.

The students gathered at the city hall at 1 o'clock and assembled in the third floor where the students were addressed by the mayor and then were grouped in classes.

This year considerable preliminary work was done by the city government to make the instruction more interesting and each student is furnished with a brief outline of the various departments, when the departments were organized and what the duties are.

Later in the year the students will elect a mayor and other city officials and one day will be turned over to them to run the city government.

The Lincoln highway, connecting New York and San Francisco, is 3,384 miles long.

Snyder Predicts Big Test for U. S.

Russian situation was that there would be no interference in China until the Japanese have "used up all the American-made munitions and oil" and when they are then Stalin will step in and sweep up the ashes.

Mr. Snyder accused the American people of "high immorality" in supplying the Japanese with munitions. He urged an embargo on arms to Japan and said that the unfortunate failure of the Panay treaty were struck down by the bombs of American manufacturers which were used by the Japanese.

Snyder professed to know that a kind which recently brought a board and of the type which he said Chamberlain had used. He said Chamberlain had failed the smaller state and out of the whole could come nothing but disaster.

Had England held out 24 hours longer Hitler would have capitulated. He was "blundering" and he cautioned the listeners to think of Germany as a country of culture. People of that country were being tortured with propaganda and were not allowed to speak or even think their own ideas without fear of death.

In the recent Czechoslovakian situation he said England had failed her duty and he roundly attacked the acts of Mr. Chamberlain. He charged that Chamberlain had resorted to old style "hidden diplomacy" instead of the kind which was open and above

Musolini was rapidly losing power in Italy while the King was gaining. Mr. Snyder predicted that Musolini was definitely on the way out. In summing up the European leaders who have been much in the spotlight Mr. Snyder said, Hitler was a bluffer; Goebbels was a "more hairless gorilla"; Beria, a "clandestine man"; Musolini was "on his way out" and Stalin was "near death."

It was predicted that because of the manner in which Chamberlain had handled the Czech situation there would probably be complete divorce between British and American foreign policies. America must in the future follow its own plan of foreign policy independent of England.

In England there was now prospects of "dictatorship." That country was on the verge of such action, he said. He also predicted that England would follow France in recognizing the conquest of Ethiopia and the proposed visit of the King of England to the United States he said would probably not come to a conclusion. He suggested rather that the huge crowd which would be required for the King's trip be retained in England.

Mr. Snyder urged all to come to the United States as a credit on the huge war debt which England owed this country. The five million pound financial aid given the Czech government he said was matched by a loan of twelve million pounds to Italy.

Mr. Snyder told of the suffering and hunger in various parts of the world and said that 75 per cent of the people of the world were hungry to bed. It was this which was bringing difficulties to England in the Holy Land. He charged that England with neglect of the people there and said that unless England moved rapidly there would be greater difficulties there. He also charged that Musolini and Hitler had agents at work in the Holy Land who were creating trouble of great importance.

Handover Loose Transportation
Hankow, Oct. 20 (AP)—The city of 800,000 lost its last means of transportation today with the departure for inland points of 15,000 flatbeds and their vehicles. Most of the large junk fleet started up the Yangtze river, feeling like the "ricksha coolies," the over-growing threat of Japan.

Automobiles have been placed under the control of defense authorities. Hankow has no streets or buses. The exodus of civilian officials, although slowed down by the lack of two-wheeled cars, progressed slowly.

Navy Assigns Cadets
Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Navy yesterday assigned eight new aviation cadets, on duty now with the fleet, to their home addresses. The cadets included: Robert H. Proctor, Squadron 4, Pearl Harbor, to his home address, 1000 Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa.

N. A. Quinn Elected
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—Nicholas A. Quinn, 39, of Princeton, N. J., has been elected president of the Princeton University Catholic Club. Other officers elected were: Robert F. Tietze, Jr., 40, of Pearl River, N. Y., president; and Vincent Broderick, 41, of Washington, D. C., secretary.

Fire Chief Submits Printed Form for Mutual Aid Plan

Chief Joseph L. Murphy, of the Kingston fire department, chairman of the committee having in charge the mutual aid plan for better fire protection in Ulster county, submitted a printed list of instructions to be used in carrying out the plan at the meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association held in Highland this week.

The plan was unanimously approved by the association and the plan is now in operation. Headquarters is in the fire station in this city.

Section "A"—You need help, call Kingston fire department.

Section "B"—If you have a fire in your district which will keep your apparatus working one hour or more, report this information to fire headquarters so that in the event you should have another fire you could not respond to another department would be ready to go to your aid.

Section "C"—If it has been agreed between fire departments that the chief or officer in charge of the fire in its own district is to remain in charge, and any fire department coming in to your town, tell exactly where the equipment is to go or have a certain well known place and conduct incoming apparatus to the fire station where you want it. This will avoid delay and confusion.

Section "D"—In case of fire apparatus responding to fire outside regular fire districts, or so called "No man's land," where two or more companies may be called, the first department to arrive is the superior department, and the chief or officer in charge remains in charge as in Section "C," with the exception that the first department if farther away from their station than another department, agreement can be made between officers, which department shall return home first or last.

Section "E"—Any chief or officer in charge at a fire, may select another chief to take command if he so desires and feels another man may have more knowledge about a certain situation, but in no doing, all departments, at the fire should be notified of the change and be governed accordingly.

Section "F"—Departments scheduled to respond to the aid of another department, should familiarize themselves with the type of hose, couplings, hydrants if any, and the general lay of the territory they may have to travel over as to the shortest routes, etc.

Section "G"—If your department is in need of emergency equipment, "Call Fire Headquarters." If department near you has such equipment in the call, all other calls, sent out by headquarters, notifying the companies to cover, will be a charge against the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

These regulations should be read to every fire department that comes to the aid of another department. Only the best of good will and cooperation will make out a success, give us the greatest help and in turn out down fire loss.

Fire Prevention Essays
The essay committee for Fire Prevention Week reported that there had been a number of essays submitted by the school children of the county, and that a report would be submitted at a November meeting of the prize winning essays.

L. E. Dunne of Wiltwyck House

Company has been appointed chairman for Ulster county in the State Firemen's Association.

The association accepted the invitation of the New Falls Fire Department to hold the November meeting in that village as the guests of the department. The date fixed for the meeting is Tuesday evening, November 15.

'Rookies' Get Special Demonstration

Name Richard Favorite

With Battling Normans

The name Richard, of Teutonic origin, means "powerful ruler." It was a favorite name with the Normans when they conquered England and has been popular ever since, writes Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Richard the Lion-Hearted (1157-99) was the first and greatest of three kings of England to bear this name. The valorous deeds he performed during the Third crusade have made him a hero of romance and legend. St. Richard (d. 1253) was bishop of Chichester.

Many other famous men of the past have borne this name. A few of them: Lovelace (d. 1648) English poet who wrote "I had not loved thee, dear, so much, loved I not honor more"; Cameron (d. 1880) Scottish Covenanter, founder of the sect of Cameronians; Baxter (d. 1691) English divine, author of "Saints' Everlasting Rest"; Montgomery (d. 1798) killed at the head of his troops in the attack on Quebec; Glover (d. 1785) English poet; Lee (d. 1784) signer of the Declaration of Independence; Wyatt (d. 1850) noted English sculptor; and Cobden (d. 1865) English statesman and economist, "the apostle of free trade."

Richard Wagner (1813-83) always so called although his first name was Wilhelm, was one of the greatest of composers of operas and a master of orchestration, besides being his own librettist.

Imposing Pre-Inca Fortress

On a hill above the city of Cuzco, ancient capital of the Inca empire and the third largest city in Peru, stands an imposing pre-Inca fortress known as Sacsahuaman. It is built in zigzag lines of huge stones, some of which weigh 20 tons and are 18 feet high. The quarries for the stones have never been discovered, but they must have been dragged for miles by hundreds of slaves. In the same area is a peculiar slope of solid rock combed with grooves, called the Rodadero. For years it was believed the formation was caused by a glacier, but experiments with smaller stones from the Sacsahuaman showed they fitted perfectly into the grooves and indicated the ancient Indians had dug the grooves into the rock and used the formation as a work-bench to round, shape and polish the fortress blocks, probably using water to wet the stone.

Congress to Have Some Big Battles

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Members of Congress are certain to have some free-for-all legislative battles next session, regardless of the results of the November election.

At least a half-dozen issues, already slated for consideration, probably will develop vigorous debate and much political maneuvering. On some questions party lines may be split deeply.

A major argument among several divergent interests is expected to develop over suggested revision of the Wagner Labor Act. Conflicting suggestions are apt to come from the administration, anti-administration legislators, business spokesmen, the American Federation of Labor, and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Similarly, numerous proposals to change the Social Security Act are anticipated. Administration lieutenants probably will try to hold any revision within limits approved by the Social Security Board.

Involved in the issue will be efforts to set up a new and more liberal pension system for the aged. The $30-a-week Thursday law suggested in California has had its counterpart in other state campaigns, with some candidates making higher old-age pensions a key plank in their platforms.

The perennial farm problem will hold an important place on the congressional agenda, with several groups battling over proposals for a new program.

Another long-debated issue will be revived in various proposals to revamp the neutrality law. There have been suggestions that it be modified to permit arms shipments to Spain. Interest will center in what changes, if any, the administration may suggest.

Along with neutrality, Congress will decide how much should be spent for armaments. This question now is under study by government defense authorities, and the administration probably will have a definite program ready for the next session.

Government reorganization—wanted by the administration and pigeonholed in the House last session—will be resubmitted by administration lieutenants.

Lehman Campaign Plea
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman, campaigning for reelection to the state's highest office, called today for election of a Democratic state Senate and Assembly. Before leaving on a motor trip to Binghamton where he will open his upstate campaign tour tonight, the governor was occupied with details of an investigation of Kings county law enforcement but found time to discuss the November election. "I shall explain," he told newspapermen, "that we need Democratic senators and assemblymen to support my program and policies."

Russia Prepares For War By Building No-Man's Land

By The AP Feature Service
Russia is trying something new in the way of defenses against Germany, diplomats report. It's a No-Man's-Land, ranging from a few to a hundred miles wide, along the border. In that strip trees are to be cut down—so that an invader would have no cover—and other preparations made against attack. The map gives an idea of what is to be done.

Note that Germany is not a border country. Hitler, however, often has spoken and written of "the land to the east" and Germany's eastward expansion. Soviet alliances crumpled in the Czech crisis, so she looks to her guns along the broad, productive Ukraine, one of her richest possessions.

Hunters Save Four
Wildwood, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—Four New York men, whose voyage to Florida came to a disastrous end when their $25,000 yacht struck a sand bar, owed their lives today to a passing quartet of duck hunters. For hours the men had clung to the lash of their sunken craft as waves dashed them about in the Atlantic off Hereford Inlet.

Sportsmen's Topics for Talks At November Convention Here

Information on the fish in the streams and the game in the cover will be the keynote of the New York State Conservation Council convention here November 17 to 19, says Karl T. Frederick, president of the organization. Representatives of some 300 sportsmen's organizations are expected to attend.

"What becomes of the fish in our streams?" This topic, which aroused statewide interest last year, will be discussed again, in the light of latest developments, by Edward R. Hewitt. Eugene W. Surber, who has been doing interesting and valuable work studying the fish in the streams and has collected a lot of valuable data, will be another speaker. He is in charge of the Federal Bureau of Fisheries station in West Virginia.

The "grouse cycle," and other phases of the grouse investigation which has been carried on for years, and some pleasant problems, will be discussed by Gardner Bump, state superintendent of game.

Fishing Resources

Management of the state's fishing resources will be the topic of a woman who probably knows more about them than any New York angler, Dr. Emmeline Moore,

All Is Fair in Pinnocchio

Rockford, Ill. (AP)—Attempting to strike one's wife during a pinnocchio game does not constitute grounds for divorce in the opinion of Judge Arthur E. Fisher. Judge Fisher refused to grant a woman a divorce on her charge that her husband tried to hit her during a pinnocchio argument.

It's Blocking That Gets Touchdowns

Louisiana's Barry Booth uses a shoulder block on Fullback Anderson as Assistant Coach Blue Howell looks on, and then drives into Anderson (at right) with a full body block.

Hard Going for 2nd 10 Grid Teams

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The struggle for the mythical national football championship, a prize as hard to nail as Red Grange in an open field, cases off a bit Saturday. Of the ten teams leading the Associated Press poll, only four head into heavy weather. If things are less hectic for the leaders, there is no peace in the second tier where the schedule promises plenty of action and consequent changes in the rankings. California, third, Notre Dame, fifth, Santa Clara, sixth, and Syracuse, tenth, are the leaders facing the sternest opposition. The Golden Bears oppose Washington, due to bust out and win a big one; Notre Dame meets Carnegie Tech, always tough for the Irish and tougher than ever after smearing Holy Cross' unblemished record; Santa Clara takes on Arkansas, a team that can and will pass at every opportunity, and Syracuse must battle not only the inevitable let down following the Cornell game but a rough, tough Michigan State team.

'Biscuit, Admiral At Pimlico Nov. 1

Baltimore, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club, composed of gentlemen devotees of horse racing, is gently and dignifiedly ballyhooing an event that has a good portion of the racing world agog—the Seabiscuit-Van Admiral duel at Pimlico November 1. Author of the latest plug for the $15,000 contest between two of turfdom's greatest present-day thoroughbreds is David F. Woods, able publicity director for the Jockey Club, whose young vice president, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, negotiated for Pimlico one of the most discussed races ever run. The starter of the race will be George Cassidy, who gets the bangs away at the New York tracks and Hialeah Park. Jervis Spencer, Jr., chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, announced yesterday Cassidy had accepted the assignment. Gila Monster Pays Visit

Elgin, Ill. (AP)—Jerome Hannon found a gila monster paddling around in the basement of his new home here. The poisonous reptile is a native of arid regions of southwestern United States, so Hannon guesses it escaped from a medicine show that visited Elgin a few days before.

Battery A opens its fifth basketball season on October 28 at the 156th Field Artillery Armory, Manor avenue. ... West Point Maroons will be the opponents. ... The White Eagles, with only one Polish player in the lineup, is slated to begin at their Delaware avenue court, Tuesday, November 8. ... Manager Dolly Tesso says the Detroit Clowns and House of David will be on the schedule. ... That race between Seabiscuit and Van Admiral at Pimlico, November 1, will be broadcast by McCarthy over WJZ-NBC. ... That Marty McHale-Vince Semprino bout is creating a lot of talk among the fans of Astoria. ... Meeting a kid with 34 straight wins is an assignment for any battler even though it may be Semprino, the Schenectady powerhouse.

The Springhurst Pros, an 11 from the metropolitan district, will oppose the GE Giants at the Athletic Field Sunday. ... The field will be enclosed this week. ... Kingston High School griders tackle Port Jervis this week end. ... Eddie Steele of Poughkeepsie scored his fifth professional ring victory, kayaking Jerry Fischerman in the third round at White Plains. ... ## 25th Army-Notre Dame Game Will Be Played on October 29

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

Baton Rouge, La.—Grapevine reports from Nashville whisper that Vanderbilt has a new hidden ball play and will be all set to try it out on the Tigers Saturday.

Last year Vandy whipped L. S. U. 7-6 on what everyone fondly called the hidden ball trick, and ever since then, Vanderbilt and hidden ball have been synonymous in southern grid circles.

New York—Well, they finally got Jimmy Crowley. Fordham coach, to the Rose Bowl. Intending him into the Circus Sights and Stairs' Club yesterday, members decked Sleepy Jim out in a long, red coachman's coat, silk hat, and whip, and planted him in front of "Rose Bowl at Last." Also at hand were signs warning "Block that kick" in a dozen languages—including the Scandinavian.

Durham, N. C.—The way Stagg feared Purdue back down the years has nothing on Duke's feelings toward its game with Wake Forest Saturday. Latent press reports from the Blue Devils' camp tell how "times have changed" and that the Duke coach isn't at all sure Wallace Wade's Warriors can knock off Wake Forest, which has only lost two of five starts.

New York—Coach Tex Oliver, leading his Oregon gridiron into New York for Saturday's party with Fordham, wasn't disappointed that local bettors had made the Rams a 3 to 1 shot over his boys. "It's surprising," he explained, "because in this football game no team is 3 to 1 over any major rival, but I'm glad we're the underdogs, because it's a challenge to my fellows and I'm sure they'll take it up."

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Trenton, N. J.—George Zarbaris, 233, Colorado, threw Jules Strongbow, 289, Oklahoma, two straight falls.

Newark—Joe Cox, 215, Missouri pinned Hank Barber, 210, New York, 32-24.

St. Louis—Everett Marshall, 233, La Junta, Colo., pinned Lee Wyckoff, 228, Nevada, No. 15-41.

Los Angeles—Bronko Nagurski, 220, Minnesota, defeated Sandor Szabo, 210, Hungary, one fall.

Kingston High Gridders Improving Since Defeat

Garcia Expects Kayo Victory

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—

Celestino Garcia, the fellow voted "most likely to succeed" in the grisly business of beating Henry Armstrong, is an affable young Filipino who makes no secret of the fact he expects to pummet the welter and lightweight champion into insensibility.

By so doing he would lift the welter crown, something he's been trying to do for two years. He missed against Barney Ross, but he is working out at Stillman's gymnasium with the express intention of doing a little better against Henry the Hammer.

Ross' successor, when they meet in the garden ring, November 2.

Someone asked Garcia if he expected to knock Henry out.

"Surely I will do it and I hit him," said Celestino, who added a string by explaining, "Sometimes my punches they do not land. But if they do I will knock him out."

Something that may depend on the outcome of Saturday's tussle is the manner in which the local high school griders have been tallying up yardage in their three games. In those trio of contests they have picked up exactly 591 yards while holding their opponents to 237. On the average per game Kingston leads by 170 to 79. And that aerial attack should also be kept in some consideration. Kingston's Vince Stoll and company have heaved out 54 and completed 25 which is just a little lower than a 500.

Five regulars from last year's club of Port Jervis will be included in their roster of 16 men Saturday. Lester Crane, Paul Freyler, Frank Seiber, Nick Fodorak, Ned Quinn and Jimmy Harbison are those who will bring the nucleus. Quinn and Harbison are two of the smoothest backs in the league and will be able to enliven plenty when they come home Saturday.

Another important phase in the workout this week under the supervision of Kias was the line which has been standing up brilliantly to date. In opening, the season these forward wallers met a heavy Amsterdam team, then Liberty and finally the home-crushing Poughkeepsie eleven. During the rehearsals this week Kias has emphasized again that his wall must hold up and to show that he means business, he has been using several other candidates in their places unless some spark is shown. But by Friday evening these seven warhorses will again be in harness for another grueling battle.

Letters Are Read At U. S. Spy Trial

New York, Oct. 20 (AP) —

Letters tending to implicate Erich

Glaser, former United States Army

private, with a German spy ring operating in this country were read before a federal jury today at the trial of Glaser and two other persons on espionage charges.

The letters were identified by

Guenther Gustav Rummel, United States Army deserter who pleaded guilty to spy charges at the opening of the trial and became a witness for the government.

Glaser sat motionless as As-

stant United States Attorney

Lester C. Dunnigan read the letters, which were addressed to

Rummel and signed "Erich Glaser."

Dunnigan questioned Rummel about visits he received from Karl

Schweizer, an alleged messenger for the spy ring, and Johanna

Hofmann, one of the defendants.

He also asked Rummel about subscriptions to the army and navy

register which the witness said

Glaser obtained for him.

Continuing, Dunnigan said:

"You told us you wanted Glaser to furnish names of army and navy men of German extraction.

You mentioned that he gave you the name of one Schmidt on the west coast. Did he give you other names?"

"He gave me the name of Zimmerman—stationed, I think, at

Panama," said Rummel. "I told him I had been requested by one of the agents who visited me to furnish names of men of German extraction in the military service.

I suggested to Glaser it would be a good idea for him to renew his contacts with these people whom he had not seen for some time. He agreed. I remember I wrote a letter to Schmidt."

Rummel said he asked Glaser where the "Z" signals came from,

(in Glaser's memorandum book and relating to communication between aircraft and the ground.)

"He told me," Rummel related,

"about the book at Mitchell Field he found them in (a radio procedure book). He said he might be able to get hold of it. He said in case he did he would like me to ask $100 for it."

Rummel testified that Glaser turned over to him, without a request on his part, a list of coast guard stations in the United States.

Thirteen per cent of Iceland's area is covered by snowfields and glaciers.

'Lot of Influence'

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP) — James Mitchell, of Detroit, formerly in charge of Welfare activities of a local union of the United Automobile Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, told House investigators today that Communists apparently "have a lot of influence on" John L. Lewis. Testifying before a committee investigating un-American activities, he said Communists had "engineered" a sit-down strike in the Murray body plant in Detroit in 1936 and 1937.

ALP Ballot Case Hearing Saturday

designated Mr. Flanagan as the party candidate on the theory that the vote cast on primary day resulted in a tie therefore a vacancy exists. This designation had been filed with the Board of Elections.

Yesterday the American Labor party also filed with the Board of Elections a paper purporting to be an endorsement of John C. Shults, Democratic candidate for sheriff, as the Labor Party candidate. As in the case of surrogate, Abram F. Molyneux, Republican candidate, resolved 18 votes to Shults' 17. In the contest between Molyneux and Shults was not brought in and there is a question whether the endorsement now by the Labor Party of Mr. Shults is legal. The party apparently is relying on the order of Justice Schirick in the Flemming-Flanagan case. Since no attack was made on the validity of the Molyneux-Shults vote within the 10 days required, and Mr. Molyneux and Mr. Shults were not a party in the surrogate action, it is believed that the Labor Party has exceeded its authority in claiming a tie vote now exists and a vacancy therefore is in effect and a committee on vacancy appointment can be made.

The American Labor party proceeded on the theory that although Justice Schirick's decision made no mention of any other vote than that of the parties mentioned in the proceedings before him, that they can now cast the Davide vote for sheriff and declare a vacancy exists.

What the Board of Elections will do in the matter depends upon the decision of County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth and probably future court action.
